

Clean Air Council Webinar:

How are local governments leveraging green power?

This Corporate Energy Managers Community of Practice had Stuart Galloway from the Energy Services Association of Canada speaking to examples of public and private collaborations on getting to zero emissions and the learnings from the business models that are being used. Dejan Skoric from City of Toronto spoke to the City's net zero buildings and the procurement framework they are using to advance net zero new builds and retrofits.

In this webinar, we learned how a small district turned solar and storage into revenue, electrified fleet vehicles for cost savings, supported home energy upgrades and greened its streetlights and city buildings. Our guest speaker, Tami Rothery of Summerland, BC and host Bruce Nagy talked about successful municipal projects and policy tools.
